V. Adjournment

WW Holding, Inc. Business Report

Dear shareholders, ladies and gentlemen, everyone:

WW Holding enjoyed a strong revenue growth in 2022 as the haze of the pandemic dissipated. With the slowing down of COVID-19, countries gradually lifted their lockdowns and accelerated border reopening and thus generated a rebound in tourist consumption worldwide along with incremental increases in business flights. These trends in turn led to a sharp increase in demand for boutique bags and luggage and added momentum to the Company's profitability. Meanwhile, there has been increased public health awareness in the post-pandemic era. In addition to partaking in sports individually, there is also more active participation in international sports competitions as well. The sports equipment industry is expected to usher in bright prospects with the resumption of school sports events at all levels and locations as well as the Paris 2024 Summer Olympics and other activities contributing to the sports atmosphere. Looking to the future, the Company's orders have fallen slightly due to adjustment pressures associated with high inventories among international sports brands at the beginning of 2023. Nonetheless, with the full lifting of lockdowns in mainland China and the restart of its domestic consumption engine, this has injected new vitality into the sports industry and the international boutique market. These developments in turn are expected to create a favorable environment for the continuous growth of the Company's operating revenue and operating performance this year (2023).

IV. Outlook for 2023:

Major Business Policies

The Group has demonstrated operational resilience in surviving COVID-19's rampage across the world. Now, in order to grasp business opportunities, anticipate challenges and move towards sustainable growth, the Group has adopted the following strategies:

(1) Leverage the decentralized deployment of our production bases and undertake flexible adjustment of capacity allocations

With continuous changes in international economic and trade conditions as well as the investment environment, the Group has been diversifying production risks as we began developing manufacturing bases in Southeast Asia in 2016. Furthermore, we continue to seek new bases to expand production capacity and flexibly adjust production configurations to meet customer needs. Although the wage level in mainland China has been rising continuously in recent years, the Group still makes good use of China's current core competitiveness in the form of a highly skilled workforce, mature supply chain and complete logistics facilities. In this way, we will maintain high-quality services and provide highquality products for brand customers.

In addition, the Group has established production bases in countries such as Thailand, Cambodia and Vietnam. Based on the production advantages of various regions and in line with the "China plus N" production strategy of brand customers, we will gradually increase the production ratio of sites in Southeast Asia while continuing to increase production capacity and strengthening the maximum flexibility of resource allocation. (2) Accumulate R&D strength with intelligent technology, improve manufacturing processes and efficiency innovation

The Company has set up a research and development center and 3D team and continues to strengthen the research and development team to provide customers with one-stop research, development and manufacturing solutions. Established in 2021, our 3D team utilizes virtual development technology to help customers shorten the development process via 3D proofing combined with the use of materials and fasteners and other databases. This approach also increases design flexibility; reduces wastage of time, materials and funds in the development stage; and creates an instantaneous, agile and environmentally-friendly development program.

In response to the rapidly changing preferences and fashion trends, 3D virtual development technology can not only assist customers in the continuous development and design of high-complexity products, but also assist brand customers to develop products with brand features and competitiveness in the market. In addition, new products developed by the R&D Department of the Company go beyond considering design aspects of "economics," "environmental protection" and "novelty" to additionally balance high consumer requirements in respect to product "functionality," "practicality" and "quality." This is especially true in regard to the substitutability of environmentally friendly and commonality of components to meet the varying needs of different brand owners.

(3) Using digital tools to optimize production processes and drive manufacturing upgrades

Performance optimization and cost control together constitute one of the main strategies used by the Company to maintain attractive returns. Although labor cost has risen and competition has become intense, the Company will continue in its self-improvement, meeting the more demanding requirements of existing and new customers. These efforts will include finding high-quality raw materials at competitive prices, upgrading production equipment and continuously optimizing and streamlining production processes to enhance competitiveness and meet the needs of brand customers. By adding automated production equipment and expanding the application range of automated processes, we can improve our technical service level, improve the production efficiency of factories and increase the flexibility and diversification of our manufacturing capabilities. At the same time, we will strengthen internal management, properly control production costs and improve production management efficiency and adhere to good quality and create long-term value. The Company is seizing new opportunities for intelligent transformation in response to the increasing maturity of digital technology and AI technology. We are gradually digitizing the production process and making it transparent and standardized by integrating Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) with intelligent management systems such as Product Lifecycle Management (PLM) and Manufacturing Execution System (MES). By additionally applying a Kanban system, we thus can achieve crosssite real-time production management, equipment maintenance, troubleshooting, and early warning benefits. Through such comprehensive promotion of manufacturing upgrades, we can achieve cost reductions, improve efficiency and attain the goal of effective management, thereby laying the foundation for the Company's sustainable revenue and profit growth.

(4) Strengthen and expand the brand customer base while providing innovative solutions through strategic cooperation.

In addition to maintaining long-term and stable cooperative relations with existing brand customers, the Company has established a business development center to actively develop new brand customers with development potential. To become a strategic partner that grows together with customers, the Company's positioning has been actively transformed from "OEM" to "manufacturing services" as we respond quickly to customer needs and creating our own value. Focusing on key brand customers with the value-oriented business philosophy, we will provide a full range of R & D innovation services and improve production models from technology development, flexible production to diversification of the supply chain.

Looking to the future, the threat of COVID-19 has decreased as countries have gradually eased lockdown measures and economic and production activities have restarted. Although the war between Russia and Ukraine has not yet ended, major countries have raised interest rates rapidly to suppress inflation and this in turn has impacted economic vitality and financial market stability. Still, countries are continuing to advance infrastructure construction and mainland China has actively opened its doors and restored its robust domestic demand as it has emerged from the pandemic. Thus, the subsequent global economic recovery should still be promising. This year (2023), the Group will sustain its growth momentum of last year (2022). On the basis of our stable customers and production, we shall continuously optimize development and production efficiency through digital technology while expanding new customer sources and new markets. Overcoming the difficult challenges of the pandemic, WW Holding has demonstrated our Group characteristics of "Agility, Resilience and Responsibility." The Group has completed its transformation on a solid foundation as we now confront a new economy, new international conditions, and new digital technology in the wake of the pandemic. In addition to continuously increasing profits to maximize shareholder value in the future, we shall also practice ESG (Environmental, Social and Governance) principles in our business activities. This will ensure that the Company's business activities comply with the laws and regulations of all countries and generate more positive social and environmental benefits so that we might improve the value of the Company and build long-term competitiveness with sustainable management concepts. In this way, we can create a mutually beneficial future for shareholders, customers, and employees. "The night fades away to meet the morning sun and the east wind touches everything." With this proverb in mind, we are well prepared and can rely on the leadership of an experienced team. Accordingly, we are confident that we can continue last year's good results, sustain optimal business performance, seek maximum profit for shareholders and create greater value for society. I would also like to ask all of you to continue to support and encourage the Company. Finally, may all your wishes come true, and good luck in everything.

Independent Auditors' Report

To the Board of Directors of WW Holding Inc.:

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of WW Holding Inc. (the "Company") and its subsidiaries (the "Group"), which comprise the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2022 and 2021, the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as of December 31, 2022 and 2021, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and with the International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRSs"), International Accounting Standards ("IASs"), Interpretations developed by the International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee ("IFRIC") or the former Standing Interpretations Committee ("SIC") endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission of the Republic of China.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Auditing and Attestation of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants and Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountants of Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis of our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

1. Revenue recognition and cut-off

Please refer to note (4)(n) and note (6)(v) "Significant accounting assumptions and judgments, and major sources of estimation uncertainty", of the consolidated financial statements.

Description of key audit matter:

Since revenue recognition is a concern for stakeholders, the test of revenue recognition is one of the key matters in our audit.

How the matter was addressed in our audit:

In relation to the key audit matter above, our audit procedures include:

- Testing the sales and collection cycle, as well as its related design of internal control and the effectiveness of the control.
- Selecting the appropriate samples to understand the trading terms and conditions of the Group's main clients and evaluating the timing of revenue recognition to determine whether the accounting policy is appropriate.
- Auditing the top ten clients, as well as new clients of the Group, and analyzing the revenue generated from them.
- Conducting the sales cut-off procedures for a sufficient period before and after year-end and reviewing the related evidence to determine whether the revenue recognition criteria were met and the sales transactions were recorded in the proper period.
- Assessing the adequacy of the Group's disclosures in respect of revenue recognition.
- 2. Inventory valuation

Please refer to note (4)(h) "Inventory" for significant accounting policies regarding inventory valuation. For the accounting estimates and assumptions regarding inventory valuation and disclosures, please refer to note (5)(b) and note (6)(e) of the consolidated financial statements.

Description of key audit matter:

The management team of the Group uses lower of cost or net realizable value to value its inventory impairment. Under the impact of economic fluctuations, products can be out-of-date that can result in the inventory to be obsolete or the costs to be higher than its net realizable value. The valuation of net realizable value also involves critical estimates and measurement uncertainty. Therefore, the valuation of inventory impairment is one of the key matters in our audit.

How the matter was addressed in our audit:

The main audit procedures for the above critical matter are as follows:

- Evaluating the appropriateness of inventory impairment and inventory reserve policy.
- Examining the completeness of inventory age reports, analyzing the change of inventory age regularly and evaluating the appropriateness of the inventory reserve.
- Understanding how the management team decides its selling price and how the market value of inventory fluctuates after year-end in order to evaluate the appropriateness of the inventory net realizable value.
- Assessing the adequacy of the Group's disclosures in respect of inventory.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and with the IFRSs, IASs, IFRC, SIC endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission of the Republic of China, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance (including the Audit Committee) are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- 1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- 2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- 3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- 4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

- 5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- 6. Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partners on the audit resulting in this independent auditors' auditor's report are Fang-Yi Lee and Chin-Hua Hsieh.
